Technology For Scripture Memorization:

Check out: Bible Memory App
VerseLocker App

Both apps are available in IOS or Android for your phone or your tablet. There are other apps available in your favorite app store for memorizing the Bible.

Music For Scripture Memorization:

Check out Spotify.com. Spotify is a streaming music service. Spotify offers a free version that contains ads, and a paid annual or monthly subscription version that is ad-free. You will have to decide for yourself which way you want to go in providing that for your family.

Once there, type into the search box: The Corner Room

It will display a list of Scripture songs designed to help you memorize Scripture. All Corner Room songs are based on the ESV version of the Bible.

The KEDSA Ensemble also provides the entire Psalms, Proverbs and other passages in the King James Version of the Scriptures.

If you search for New King James Version (NKJV) Scripture Songs, you will find there are several sources of these scripture passages set to music.

Another streaming music service is Pandora.com. Pandora and Spotify subscriptions are about the same price. Both streaming services seem to have their particular advantages. Pandora is part of the SiriusXM company.

Other streaming services at this point in time include Amazon Music Unlimited, Qobuz, LiveOne, Apple Music, SiriusXM, Tidal, Deezer, Idagio, and YouTube Music.

Music For Spiritual Influence:

Philippians 4:8-9 urges us to center our minds on things that are uplifting and positive. Just having these Scripture songs, whatever the version you choose, infuse your day with music and the Bible will be a positive influence on your daily walk with Christ. Consider it. How you choose to implement this is entirely up to you.
